

"Cohan Revue" and "The Brat" To Lead Theatrical Programs

National—"The Cohan Revue 1916."

Heralded as "The Greatest Musical Show in the World" and "the New York and Chicago critics acclaiming it the brightest, breeziest and snappiest concoction ever staged," "The Cohan Revue 1916" will inaugurate a week's engagement at the National Theater next Monday, with matinee on Wednesday and Saturday.

Cohan and Harris, who sponsor the presentation, wittily and playfully advertise it as "A Musical Crazy Quilt. Patched Together, Threaded with Words and Music, and Staged by George M. Cohan," thus the character of the entertainment is epitomized in words.

The big original New York company of over one hundred people comes here, intact, and includes Richard Carle, Valli, Elizabeth M. Murray, Charles Wininger, Miss Juliet, Harry Bulger, Lila Rhodes, James C. Marlowe, Grace Nolan, Little Nilly, Harry Deif, Frederick Stanley, Jera Grady, John Hendricks, Alfred Latell, Boyle and Brail, Anita Elkins, Florence Curtis, and the beauty chorus that captivated Broadway—a chorus that can sing, and dance in addition to their noted pulchritude.

B. F. Keith's—Vandeville.

Emma Carus, the svelte and saucy character singing comedy star, assisted by her new satellite, Barry Comer, select "The Beau Brummell of Songland," will radiate with new brightness at the head of a resplendent bill at the B. F. Keith Theater next week. Beatrice Herford in an entirely original and fresh repertoire of her inimitable characterizations, and a highly agreeable addition, and among her offerings will be "The Hotel Child," "The Matinee Girl" and "The Ten Cent Store." Next will be presented Sam and Kitty Morton, the pa and ma of the Four Mortons, in their latest hit, "Back Where They Started." Morton and Morton, former "Tik Tok" stars, will run their laughable gamut as "That Live-ly Pair." Others will be Jean Adair, Edna Murray, the De Pace opera sestet, the Weisse troupe, the pipe organ recitals and the Hearst International news pictorial.

Gaiety—Burlesque.

Originality is the chief feature of a mammoth production, "A Rag Doll in England," featuring George Stone and Etta Pillard, which will be seen for the first time at the Gaiety Theater at the Lyceum. The new play, the title role of which fairly indicates that the plot has a great deal to do with the fanciful tales of childhood, sails happily through the land of extravagance. In reality, it calls forth the celebrities of fairyland and the audience is confronted with faithful portrayals of Red Riding Hood, the bad, bad wolf, the wooden soldier and the brownies, as well as many other interesting personages.

Lyceum—Burlesque.

"The Models of Paris," next week's attraction at the Lyceum Theater, presents two burlesques and many specialties of unusual merit. The curtain-raiser is entitled "The Pawnbroker," and sets forth the troubles of that much maligned individual in a fashion that will prove highly amusing to the audience. "A Day at Hot Springs," is the title of the second burlesque and exploits the adventures of two "sharpers" at a fashionable resort.

Cosmos—Vandeville.

One of the best of the season's headline attractions, "The Broadway Revue," presented by a big company of pretty girls and clever comedians will top the bill of continuous vaudeville at the Cosmos Theater next week. The drama will be represented in the comedy tabloid, "The Law and the Man." Eleanor Sherman will offer a dainty pianologue; the Thomas Trio will be seen in triple bar and trampoline acrobatics; Fox and Ingraham will furnish a laughmaking skit; Homer and Davenport an English bit of chaffle fun, and Hicknell, who carves pretty things out of mud. There will be the usual film attractions including both the Pathe and the Selig-Tribune news pictures, cartoon comedies and a big photoplay attraction.

Moore's Strand—Robert Edson.

At Moore's Strand Theater many fine attractions are scheduled for showing next week. Robert Edson, a favorite with Washington theater-goers, heading the program on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in a visualization of Rudyard Kipling's novel and play, "The Light That Failed." Other attractions on these days will include H. Lloyd in a comedy offering entitled "Lute's Preparedness Preparation" and "Bringing Up Father," an animated cartoon farce by McManus. On Wednesday and Thursday the charming screen star, Bessie Love, will be the center of attraction. The comedy portion of the program will be headed by Fred Mace in one of Mack Sennett's funniest efforts, "A Widow's Might." Peggy Hyland and Ewart Overton will be featured on Friday and Saturday in "The Enemy." There will be special musical programs rendered by the Strand Symphony Orchestra.

GIRLS! ACT NOW! HAIR COMING OUT MEANS DANDRUFF

25-cent "Danderine" Will Save Your Hair and Double Its Beauty.

Try This! Your Hair Gets Soft, Wavy, Abundant and Glossy at Once.

Save your hair! Beautify it! It is only a matter of using a little Danderine occasionally to have a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, wavy, and free from dandruff. It is easy, and inexpensive to have pretty, charming hair and lots of it. Just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed, and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and luster, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp. Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff, and cure for itchy scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy, and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits every one who tries this.—Adv.

LEILA RHODES, a featured member of "The Cohan Revue," at the National next week.

OLIVER MOROSCO, who will present "The Brat" at the Belasco next week.

Belasco—"The Brat."

At the Belasco Theater next Monday evening the engagement containing throughout the week with the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees, Oliver Morosco will make his third local production of the season when he presents Maude Fulton's new comedy-drama, "The Brat," in which the author will be seen in the title role. Other well-known players in the cast are Lewis Stone, Frederic De Bellville, John Pindley, Edmond Lowe, Katherine Emmet and Charlotte Teasdale.

"The Brat" is said to be comparable to "Peg O' My Heart," but along different lines. It is a play full of pathos and heart interest and clever lines. The scenes are laid in New York at the present time.

Poll's—"The Woman He Married."

Virginia Harned's celebrated success, "The Woman He Married," will be the attraction at Poll's Theater beginning Sunday evening next, with matinee Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The play deals with Jean Dumont, an artist's model, in a famous New York studio, who married Jack Harding, scion of a millionaire merchant. Society broods over the union and the newspapers herald it broadcast. Col. John Harding in London reads of the scandal and hastens home. Disowning the son because of the meanness, accusing the girl of being mercenary in her devotion, he leaves them to their fate. The young couple have no money and the husband starts a play which his wife has suggested.

Then follows a succession of thrills until the finish of the play.

Loew's Columbia—Lenore Ulrich.

The mystic Orient and the inscrutable desert cast their double fascination over the screen drama of Algeria and the Sahara which will be seen at Loew's Columbia Thursday and for the rest of the week. "The Road to Love" is its title, and Lenore Ulrich, who is the star, will be seen as Hafsa, the high-born dancing girl. The story concerns that of a young American's love for the girl; conflict, daring adventure, blend in the photoplay.

Gowns, arms, rugs, costumes and all the paraphernalia of Algerian life were secured from a wealthy Algerian, who takes part in this picture play.

Moore's Garden—Olga Petrova.

Mme. Petrova, one of the established stars of filmdom, will head the double feature program at Moore's Garden Theater from Sunday to Wednesday inclusive, of next week in her latest success, "The Black Butterfly."

The comedy section of the bill will be contributed by Tom Wise, the retund and unctuous comedian, a hilarious farce "Grouchy," and there will also be shown a Mutt and Jeff animated cartoon and the Garden Topical Digest. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday Louise Glaum, Howard Hickman, and Charles Ray, former stars of "The Wolf Woman," will be featured in Thomas Ince's latest success, "The Vampire's Prey." There will be other pictures and special musical accompaniments by the Garden Symphony Orchestra will be a daily feature.

Burton Holmes Lecture.

For the fourth subject next Sunday night at the National in his annual series of Burton Holmes Travelogues, being delivered here personally by Mr. Holmes himself, he has chosen "The German Fatherland," a delightful re-counting of Mr. Holmes' experiences in that wonderful country of efficiently governed cities, quaint towns and villages which still retain the impress of the artistic crafts of former generations.

MANY GO DOWN WITH VESSEL.

Berlin, Dec. 6.—It is believed that heavy loss of life attended the destruction of the French transport Karmak by a German submarine on November 27.

The admiralty, in announcing the sinking of the transport, said she was on her way to Saloniki with French troops on board. There is a big British naval station at Malta.

WARN PUBLIC AGAINST FAKE VENDORS OF FURS

Retail Merchants Say Itinerant Dealers Are Ready for Raid on City.

The public is warned of fake itinerant vendors of merchandise in a statement issued yesterday by Charles J. Columbus, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association.

"Reports have reached the office of the Retail Merchants' Association that fur vendors and imported gown dealers are going to make Washington their mecca for the Christmas shopping season, establishing themselves in hotels and other temporary locations for the express purpose of putting it over during the holidays and then leaving for other parts," says the statement.

"In many cities and States of the country there are itinerant merchant laws which make fake periodical merchandise set-ups impossible. The city of Richmond has found such a law a wonderful protection to the public. It has been the experience throughout the country that the visits of itinerant merchants to hotels and other places are usually followed by complaints on the part of purchasers."

SOCIETY TO ATTEND ELECTRICAL EXHIBIT

Social Leaders Will Be Guests at Display Quarters Tonight.

Many social leaders are planning to pay homage to electrical achievements by attending the electric show tonight at the display headquarters, 1213 G street northwest. A "society night" has been arranged by the general committee in charge of the local observance of America's Electrical Week, now in progress throughout the entire country.

William F. Ham, vice president of the Potomac Electric Power Company, will be the guest of honor. He will deliver a brief address on electricity and the part played by it in the home.

Interest in the exhibition has not lessened since the opening last Saturday, and from morning until 10:30 last night a continuous stream of people passed through the doors. Director Charles J. Columbus, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, estimated yesterday's attendance at 5,200 and predicted that before the celebration comes to an end, all records for attendance will be broken.

The government of India has prohibited the importation of sulphur matches.

SHOULD MAKE A MILLION FOR HIM

Cincinnati Man Discovers Drug That Loosens Corns So They Lift Out.

Local druggists are having a tremendous call for freezone, the drug which is said to shrivel a corn, root and all, without any pain.

A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn relieves the soreness at once, and shortly the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out with the fingers.

This new drug is being dispensed at small cost in quarter ounce bottles, which is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn from one's feet. It is a stick substance which dries at once, and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin. There is no excuse for any one inviting death by infection or lockjaw from cutting their corns now.—Adv.
